

AMERICAN LEGAL
Publishing Corporation

NEW WEBSITE FEATURES AVAILABLE

American Legal Publishing recently made changes to the online code library display. You may have noticed the new display and have seen these new features, but if not, let us introduce you:

- Print, Save and Email – Use the checkmark boxes to print, save or email material in seconds.
- Bookmarks (🔖) – set favorites links in your browser or obtain URLs for heavily referenced chapters or sections.
- Help – having trouble using the new features? This page provides information about using the new features, troubleshooting potential errors and answers some commonly asked questions.
- New Window – compare or review multiple codes simultaneously. Open each as a new window and still retain all the features of the main website: searching, printing, saving and email options.
- Advanced Search – choose between Boolean and Advanced directed search options
